Light the Advent Candle two.

Shining in the cold winter night.
Candle, candle, burning bright,
Fill our hearts with Advent light.

ADVENT-Year A

General Background on the Season

Advent has a twofold character, for it is a time of preparation for the Solemnities of Christmas, in which the First Coming of the Son of God to humanity is remembered, and likewise a time when, by the First Coming of the Son of God to humanity is remembered, and likewise a time when, by remembrance of this, minds and hearts are led to look forward to Chris' Second Coming at the end of time. For these two reasons, Advent is a period of devout and expectant delight.

Advent Wreath

The use of the Advent wreath has become a popular practice in the Church. The Advent Wreath should be large enough to be visible to the members of the assembly in a given church building. In some churches, it is suspended from the ceiling. Others use a stand or a table for the wreath and candles. If the Advent Wreath is placed in or near the presbyterium (Sanctuary), it should not be placed in such a way as to interfere with the ritual actions of the liturgy or obscure the visibility of the altar, ambo, or presider's chair.

Vestments

The color of the Season of Advent is violet. In order to distinguish between Advent and lent, the bluer hues of violet may be used. Rose colored vesture will be worn on the Third Sunday of Advent, which is termed Gaudete Sunday.

CONGRADULATIONS

Today we welcome Josiah Reffo into the full communion of Catholic Church. It is the first time he has joined us at the Eucharistic Table of the Lord. Please take a moment after Mass to let him know how happy we are to have him as a member of the COV family. Congratulations Josiah!

Dear Friends,

As we celebrate Thanksgiving Day, it is with humility and a grateful heart that I write you this note of Thanks. Thanking you for your generosity towards St. Noa School Water Project. I am without words, your response to this crisis was beyond my imagination.

Because of your generous hearts, the Well is now functioning and pumps approximately 5000 liters in the morning and in the evening, enough for the children and teachers. The Lord is Great!

Thanks to all who have generously donated and those who continue to donate towards this project.

I am proud to be part of this loving community and pray that you continue to be witnesses to the message of Christ, which is love with no boundaries.

Thank you and may God bless you all during this festive season. Father Gerry

OPERATION CHRISTMAS AT COV

A few weeks ago we packed over 60 boxes for Operation Christmas Child. All the children from our faith formation packed multiple boxes, and other members of the congregation joined in as well. This would not have been possible without all the generous donations and the enthusiasm of the children. Thank you everyone who helped make this possible!

The Second Sunday of Advent 'A', 12/4/2022

It is true that salvation is God's doing, and we cannot earn it. We are saved by His grace. But it is also true that one has to cooperate with God's grace because God cannot force Himself upon us. That is why John the Baptist in today's Gospel summons us to play our essential part by leading lives of repentance, conversion, and renewal, thus preparing the way for the Lord's coming into our lives by repentance and good works. John the Baptist warns us of thinking that we are entitled to God's salvation. No, we are not entitled to it, but we are supposed to be active participants in God's plan of saving us.

The message for the Second Sunday of Advent is "prepare" or, more precisely, "Don't presume; instead prepare." We have been brought into the Christian faith through the merciful gift of God that is our baptism. When we refuse to live our faith, we are treating our baptism as a mere ritual act, which is insufficient if we do not live according to what we believe. We are entitled to nothing other than the fruit of our Active Christian life.

The first reading describes how God will reform the lives of His Chosen People by sending the Messiah. Because of the bad example of the unfaithful successors of King David, the Chosen People were wavering in their loyalty to Yahweh. Hence, in the first reading, the Lord God, through His prophet, Isaiah, tries to dispel their fears and to stir up hope among His people with His promise of a new King (a son of Jesse), who will establish peace and a glorious Kingdom of justice on earth. Things would be different when he comes. People would live in peace and the earth would truly be a glorious place in which to be.

In the second reading, Paul is praying for the reform of the Christian people, giving them encouragement to endure in following the laws of God. They are to live in harmony with Gentile Christians, accepting them as equal, brothers and sisters, while they wait together for the second coming of Jesus.

The same message in the Gospel, John the Baptist urges the Pharisees and Sadducees to give evidence that they mean to reform their lives so as to recognize and be ready to meet and accept the promised Messiah. He challenges them to repentance, conversion, and renewal. He tells the common people, who expect the Messiah to come soon, to act with justice and charity, letting their lives reflect the transformation that will occur when the Messiah enters their lives.

John's invitation is: "prepare the way of the Lord." He called them and us to repent today by acknowledging our sins and by changing our ways. The word 'repent' is best understood as a new way of looking at life. Ultimately it means looking at life and people through the eyes of Jesus. John also reminds us that deeds not mere words are what are required. He says that if we are repentant, we must produce appropriate fruit. That the axe will be laid to the roots of the trees so that any tree which fails to produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire. These are challenging words indeed because for John our conversion has to be seen in action, expressed in our lives.

Advent then is the season of preparation for the coming of Jesus Christ into our hearts in a new way. But Jesus cannot come into our hearts if we don't welcome him. We won't be able to do this if our hearts are full up of all that does not lead to true happiness. That is why John's call, in today's gospel to repent is so important. It implies a change of attitude since without conversion it is impossible to welcome Christ. John reminds us that the change he is asking of us is not something superficial; something done by complying with external rituals. John demanded that we show the fruits of our repentance. Fruits of our active faith.

Very Reverend Gerry Kaggwa V.F.

ATTENTION TO DETAIL

Recently, we have encountered several instances of the misuse of utilities or a failure to safeguard the premises, after a parish entity, group, or even an individual has used our building.

Notably, lights are left on, the heat is left on high or air conditioning set low, or an outside door left open. If you are using the building after normal office hours, please be vigilant about these things and ensure we have a secure building that's not lighted, heated, or cooled unnecessarily.

We all share a responsibility to shepherd our resources. Thank you

SAINT THERESA OF CALCUTTA'S
"ANYWAY PRAYER"

People are often unreasonable, illogical, and self-centered; forgive them anyway. If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives; be kind anyway. If you are successful, you will win some false friends and true enemies; succeed anyway. If you are honest and frank, people may cheat you; be honest and frank anyway. What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight; build it anyway. If you find serenity and happiness, they may be jealous; be happy anyway. The good you do today, people will often forget tomorrow; do good anyway. Give the world the best you have, and it may never be enough; give the world the best you've got anyway. You see, in the final analysis, it is between you and God; it was never between you and them anyway.
