UNDERSTANDING THE CHURCH CALENDAR

This is the first installment of the series of understanding the Church calendar.

Except for such widely known celebrations as Easter, Christmas and Pentecost, most lay Catholics lump all Church celebrations under the term feast or feast days.

While the terminology is not necessarily incorrect, feasts are only one of the three categories of such celebrations in the Church year; the other two are solemnities and memorials. But what's the difference? The Church has always provided the faithful people of God with externally expressed devotions, festivals and celebrations through which they may pay homage to the Creator. These holy activities are not merely random events, but follow a seasonal, regulated schedule established by the Church's liturgical calendar. The day-to-day events of the annual Church year are primarily catalogued as a solemnity, a feast or a memorial.

In the fourth century, Emperor Constantine ended the Roman persecution of all religious factions and claimed Christianity to be the state religion of the Roman Empire. As the Church and Christian faith expanded, the number of religious celebrations subsequently increased. Unfortunately, for centuries there was no centralized control over the observance of the many celebrations. Every diocese had its own calendar, therefore rituals differed, celebrations honoring the mysteries of sacred Scriptures competed with honoring a saint, feast days overlapped, and almost every Sunday liturgy was pre-empted by a special occasion. This all led to confusion and abuses that continued until the reforms of the Council of Trent (1545-1563) and the eventual development of a universal calendar.

A churchwide calendar prompted the need to effectively organize the numerous holidays in a manner applicable to every diocese. A most challenging aspect of this effort was the standardization of the rituals used during the different ceremonies and, further, the sorting out and assigning of common dates or time frames to each event. A well-organized liturgical calendar did not happen overnight, but has evolved over the past 450 years. While the methods of categorizing the various festivals have varied, the Church has been consistent in her effort to arrange the events according to importance. The birth of Jesus is considered more important than the birth of John the Baptist; the birth of the Baptist more important than the dedication of St. John Lateran church; the life of the Blessed Mother outranks that of St. Francis of Assisi; and so on. The hierarchal process used as recently as the 20th century rank, or order, Church celebrations by calling them doubles of the first class, doubles of the second class, greater doubles, lesser doubles, simples and commemorations. In 1962, they were called first class, second class, third class and commemorations. The Second Vatican Council simplified the classifications to solemnities, feasts and memorials.

HOLY DAY (S) OF OBLIGATION FOR 2023 (6)

On December 13, 1991 the members of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops of the USA made the following general decree concerning holy days of obligation for Latin Rite Catholics: In addition to Sunday, the days to be observed as holy days of obligation in the Latin Rite dioceses of the USA, in conformity with canon 1246, are as follows:

- *January 1, the solemnity of Mary, Mother of God
- *Thursday of the Sixth Week of Easter, the solemnity of the Ascension
- *August 15, the solemnity of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary
- *November 1, the solemnity of All Saints
- *December 8, the solemnity of the Immaculate Conception
- *December 25, the solemnity of the Nativity of Our Lord Jesus Christ

Whenever January 1, the solemnity of Mary, Mother of God, or August 15th, the solemnity of the Assumption, or November 1st, the solemnity of All Saints, falls on a Saturday or on a Monday, the precept to attend Mass is abrogated.

(UNDERSTANDING THE CHURCH CALENDAR CONTINUED) SOLEMNITIES

A solemnity holds the highest rank among Church celebrations and there are 24 days so marked on the annual liturgical calendar. It is a day that recalls and glorifies an important event in the life of Jesus and the most significant mysteries of the Catholic Christian faith: Christmas, Epiphany, Easter (the Easter Octaves including Divine Mercy Sunday), Pentecost, Holy Trinity, Ascension, Corpus Christi, Sacred Heart, Christ the King. So, too, honored as a solemnity are the days associated with the Blessed Mother: the Immaculate Conception, the Assumption, the Annunciation and Mary, Mother of God. Some saints are acknowledged with a solemnity: St. Joseph, the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, Sts. Peter and Paul and All Saints Day.

In addition to every Sunday, the Catholic Church prescribes holy days of obligation, which include certain solemnities. In the United States there are six holy days of obligation: Mary, Mother of God, the Ascension, the Assumption, All Saints, the Immaculate Conception and Christmas. While all holy days of obligation are solemnities, not all solemnities are holy days of obligation. For example, the celebration of the Immaculate Heart of Mary is a solemnity but not a holy day of obligation. The same is true of the solemnity of St. Joseph and the solemnity of Sts. Peter and Paul.

Some solemnities are always celebrated on the same calendar date and are known as "fixed" on the liturgical calendar-for example, Dec. 25 is always the date of Christmas, Nov. 1 is the date of All Saints and the Immaculate Conception is always on Dec. 8. Other solemnities are "moveable"-that is, their dates change or move based on the date of Easter. Pentecost is 50 days after Easter, Holy Trinity is the first Sunday after Pentecost, Corpus Christi is the second Sunday after Pentecost, the Sacred Heart of Jesus is the first Friday after Corpus Christi and so on.

So, just what distinguishes a solemnity? The celebration begins with evening prayers on the day before and some, if a holy day of obligation, have a vigil Mass. If the solemnity falls on a weekday, the daily Mass looks much like a Sunday liturgy, including three readings, the Gloria and the Creed. All the prayers of the Mass reflect on the event or person being celebrated. These added liturgical elements help to embellish the special attention given the event or person.

The Second Sunday in Ordinary Time 'A' January 15, 2023

In this Sunday's gospel John the Baptist points to Jesus and says, "Behold the Lamb of God. This is the one who takes away the sins of the world." The expression John uses is so familiar to us, for every time that we prepare for communion, we hear the priest say, "Behold the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world." What does this mean and signify?

When John the Baptist said "Behold, the Lamb of God", the people would have understood that he was making an explicit link with the hundreds of lambs sacrificed for sins in the Temple and also the many more lambs sacrificed on the night of the Passover Feast. That This man Jesus, is now taking their place.

John is pointing out that Jesus is "The New Lamb", the one who is coming to free the people from their sins. That they will not need to sacrifice lambs every day in the Temple for their sins, because Jesus has come to be that Lamb which will be sacrificed, He is the one who takes away our sins in his final sacrifice on the Cross.

Therefore, we begin this Ordinary Time of the Church, right at the beginning of Jesus' public ministry but we do so with an eye on the end of the story. Because already Jesus is being proclaimed as the one who will be sacrificed for our sins. The action of John the Baptist pointing out Jesus as The Lamb of God, points to His principal task, that is, "to take away the sins of the world" which he accomplished by dying on the cross. This is the reason he has come among us, this is His true purpose, this is something in which the whole world can rejoice and be thankful.

John The Baptist when he receives this revelation and come to recognize that Jesus was the one who had come from God to save us from our sins, he immediately does the thing that he was destined to do, the one thing that for his whole life he had been preparing, he identifies Jesus as the Lamb of God. And shows Him to the World. So important is this incident that the Church explicitly refers to it every time we celebrate the Eucharist when the priest holds up the host and the chalice and says, "Behold the Lamb of God, behold him who takes away the sins of the world. Blessed are those called to the supper of the Lamb."

We have to seek that personal encounter with Jesus in our lives, because if we encounter Jesus and recognize him as our Savior, then, and only then can we show him to others. To those we meet.

This is our task; this is the role we have been given by our baptism, by becoming Christians: to make Jesus known. And we are to convey not just that he existed but precisely who He is, that he is the Son of God, that he is our Savior, that he loves us and wants us to live with him for all eternity in heaven.

Brothers and Sisters, let us become John the Baptist for our World, for the Society of today. By bringing and showing the Lamb of God Who Comes to take away our sins to all people we encounter in our daily lives. John the Baptist shows us the path to follow, he accomplishes the mission which was entrusted to him to be the instrument of Christ, the mediator through whom the Messiah will be revealed to the people. This is our entire mission during our life on earth as a Church. To be the witnesses of Christ, Savior of humanity. So, let us not hesitate to tell all the men and women in the world that Jesus is the Lamb of God. Let us testify to our faith in the living God. John the Baptist is the model of the Church, a Church called to point out to the World that Jesus is, the Son of God who came to save us.

Very Reverend Gerry Kaggwa V.F.

SAINT THERESA OF CALCUTTA'S "ANYWAY PRAYER" People are often unreasonable, illogical, and self-centered; forgive them anyway. If you are kind, people may accuse you of selfish, ulterior motives; be kind anyway. If you are successful, you will win some false friends and true enemies; succeed anyway. If you are honest and frank, people may cheat you; be honest and frank anyway. What you spend years building, someone could destroy overnight; build it anyway. If you find serenity and happiness, they may be jealous; be happy anyway. The good you do today, people will often forget tomorrow; do good anyway. Give the world the best you have, and it may never be enough; give the world the best you've got anyway. You see, in the final analysis, it is between you and God; it was never between you and them anyway. Breathe in Love, Exhale Peace.
