LEGACY GIFTS

Permanent endowments are gifts that keep on giving. If the endowment agreement states that the principal shall never be invaded and that income is paid out to support a designated cause through your church, then your gift is "forever."

Trusts allow you to make a gift to your church in the future. You may set up the trust now and keep the income for yourself or other beneficiaries as long as you choose, or for life. The church will receive the property after that. There are special tax benefits for these kinds of trusts.

Charitable Remainder Trusts allow you to make a gift to your church while retaining income from the gifted asset during your lifetime (and that of your spouse). If the trust is funded with appreciated property, capital gains taxes may be avoided. There will also be a significant current income tax deduction at the time the trust is created.

Journey Through the Bible: A Look Back at The Psalms

This commentary is adapted from Little Rock Scripture Study’s “Panorama of the Old Testament”.

During the week ahead we will reach the half-way point of our journey through the Bible. We will also have worked our way through all 150 songs contained in the book of Psalms. This compilation is sometimes called the hymnbook of the temple or Israel’s prayer book. Perhaps the most important thing to consider about the Psalms is that they are prayers. Their language and purpose differ from most other parts of the Bible as they are intended to express praise, gratitude, grief, and petition to God.

The Psalms are filled with feeling. They contain probably every human emotion possible, from joy, hope, and thanksgiving to anger, frustration, and desperation. Nothing about us can be hidden from God, so the psalms are genuine and honest expressions rising from the human heart.

These sung poems include hymns for public celebrations in the temple, individual meditations at times of danger or suffering, expressions of awe at God’s creation, and much more. Taken together the Psalms offer us a broad impression of the temple, priesthood, and nation, but individually they offer us personal voices expressing peril, doubt, and celebration.

David is the patron saint of the psalms. Over half the psalms belong to the Davidic collection. This does not mean that David composed all these works, but rather the superscriptions indicate how these psalms should be prayed in the spirit of David and with his faith. David certainly wrote some of the psalms and is known as a singer and poet. In addition, he is described as zealous in promoting and beautifying Israel’s liturgical prayer. So it is fitting that the whole Psalter is put under his patronage.

All the psalms can teach us to pray better. They expand our vocabulary and imagery of prayer. They teach us to be totally open and honest with God. The psalms are at the heart of the church’s daily prayer in the Liturgy of the Hours. The prayer at every prescribed time - Morning Prayer, Daytime Prayer, Evening Prayer, and Night Prayer - as well as the Office of Readings, consists primarily of the psalms. The church inherited this practice of using psalms for daily prayer from Judaism and continues it to this day in gratitude for the privilege of praising God with the prayer book of Jesus. Early Christian writers heard every one of these Old Testament prayers as either a prayer of Christ, a prayer to Christ, or a prayer about Christ. Saint Augustine, for example, often points out that even though Christ our head is in heaven, the Body of Christ on earth still cries out in lament as well as praise. Those who pray the Liturgy of the Hours take on the responsibility of giving voice to Christ’s members, praying in the name of the whole church and the whole world.

SAINT PETER AND PAUL

Saints Peter and Paul are two of the most important figures in the history of the Church. They were leaders who spread the message of Jesus and helped build the early Christian community. Both are remembered as apostles who gave their lives for their faith. The Church celebrates them together because of their deep connection in spreading the Gospel.

Peter was one of the twelve apostles chosen by Jesus. He became the leader of the apostles and is known as the first Pope. Jesus called Peter “the rock” on which He would build His Church. Peter’s role was to guide and strengthen the early Christians.

Paul was not one of the twelve apostles, but he became an important leader. At first, Paul persecuted Christians, but he had a powerful experience of Jesus and became a believer. Paul traveled far and preached to people who had never heard about Jesus. He wrote letters that helped explain the teachings of the Church.

Peter and Paul both died in Rome as martyrs. They gave their lives to follow Jesus. The Church celebrates their feast day on June 29 to honor their work and their sacrifice. Their stories show the courage and faith that built the Church.

SAINTS PETER AND PAUL: LESSONS FOR EVERYDAY FAITH

The lives of Peter and Paul teach us that God can use anyone to do His work. Peter was an ordinary fisherman, and Paul started as someone who opposed Christians. Both became leaders of the Church. This reminds us that no matter our past or weaknesses, we can serve God if we are willing to follow Him.

Peter’s life teaches us about trust and forgiveness. He made mistakes, like when he denied Jesus three times. But Peter repented and accepted Jesus’ forgiveness. He went on to lead the early Church with courage. This shows us that failure is not the end. When we turn back to God, He gives us another chance.

Paul’s life shows the power of change. He was once an enemy of Christians, but after his conversion, he became one of the greatest missionaries. Paul reminds us that God’s grace can change even the hardest hearts. No one is too far away from God to come back to Him.

Both Peter and Paul show us how to be brave in our faith. They faced threats, prison, and even death, but they kept preaching the Gospel. Their courage inspires us to stand firm in our beliefs, even when it is not easy.

Another lesson from their lives is the importance of working together. Peter and Paul had different missions and sometimes disagreed. But they worked for the same goal: spreading the message of Jesus. They remind us that unity is more important than differences.

The examples of Peter and Paul teach us to trust God, seek forgiveness, be open to change, and stay strong in faith. Their lives encourage us to live with purpose and to share the message of Jesus with others.

Greetings to Father Koo’s Family and Friends!

We extend a warm and gracious welcome to all the family and friends that have traveled from near and far to join us today to celebrate Fr. Koo’s 30th Anniversary. We are especially honored to have Archbishop John Bonaventure Kwofie of Accra, Ghana with us today. We appreciate your presence and the role you played in forming Father Koo into the Pastor and spiritual leader that we have grown to appreciate so much! We send up prayers for safe travels to all who will be returning home over the next few days.

OUR PARISH REPRESENTATIVES VOTE

“Parish Vote Report” prepared by the Virginia Catholic Conference – which represents our Commonwealth’s bishops at our state capitol in Richmond. The report shows how the legislators who represent our parish area voted on some highly consequential issues earlier this year.

One key vote was the ongoing attempt to add an extreme so called “right to abortion” amendment to the Virginia Constitution – a matter you will continue to hear much more about. Many people took an active part in these debates. Knowing the outcomes and how your legislators voted is a critical part of staying informed and engaged. Please review the vote report and join the Virginia Catholic Conference email network at vacatholic.org/action.

Though the session has concluded, there are ongoing efforts to add an extreme abortion amendment to Virginia’s constitution. Please note each parish has two reports, one for its delegate and one for its senator. The results are located in the Narthex. Please stop by the table.

Currently, three amendments have made it past Step Two. Elections for the House of Delegates will take place in Nov. 2025. the amendments will then be voted on again next session and, if passed in the 2026 General Assembly, sent to the voters in Nov. 2026.
